

Sports Venue PADDING

BY ARTISTIC COVERINGS

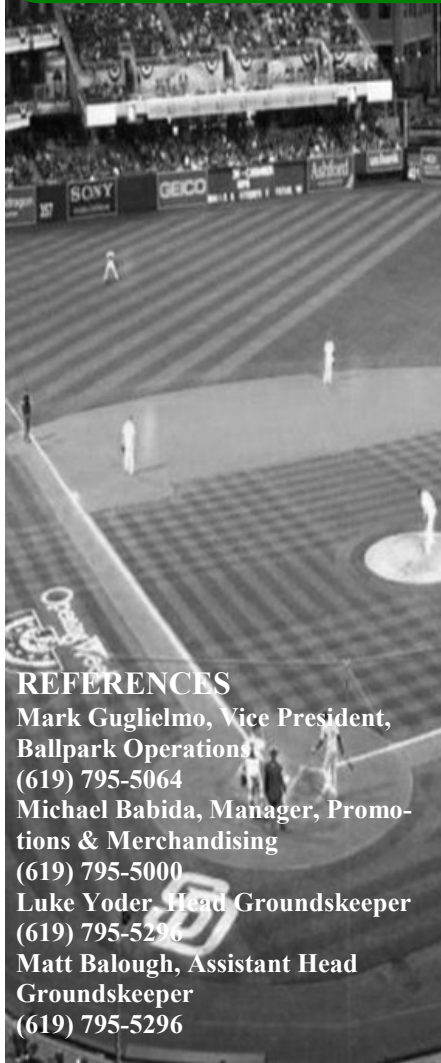

After the 2011 baseball season, the San Diego Padres selected Sports Venue Padding to evaluate their field padding and provide a comprehensive proposal to replace the field padding in Petco Park and work with the teams' sponsorship department to incorporate sponsor/team signage in conjunction with the project. Sports Venue Padding sent a design and measurement team to Petco Park, delivered a specific proposal catered to the needs of the client, and detailed a project schedule for project completion before Opening Day 2012.

In this project, Sports Venue Padding proposed three custom solutions to alleviate problem areas noted by the Padres during initial discussions: 1) consolidate padding to one, efficient, system; 2) auto-wedge gate pads in the TaylorMade ad; and 3) integrated digital printing for all team/sponsor signage on the outfield wall.

The Padres requested the use of a custom – Padre Blue – colored vinyl in this project. Sports Venue Padding provided samples to the client of the custom colored vinyl, as well as sponsor/team signage prints directly onto the custom color. As in many projects, custom color matching and printing directly onto this custom color is paramount to the client and the success of the project.

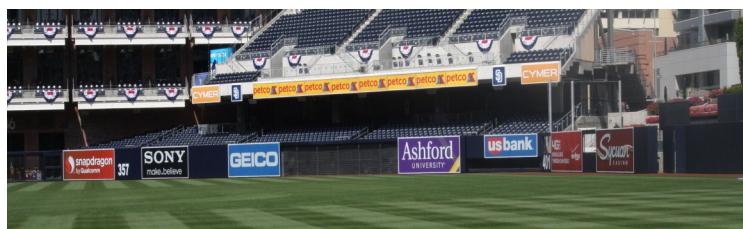

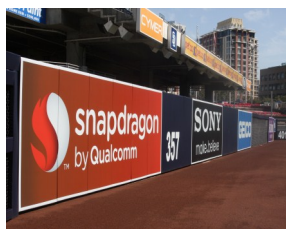

The San Diego Padres utilized all facets and services provided by Sports Venue Padding – engineering, design, fabrication, production, installation, and most important outstanding customer service.
