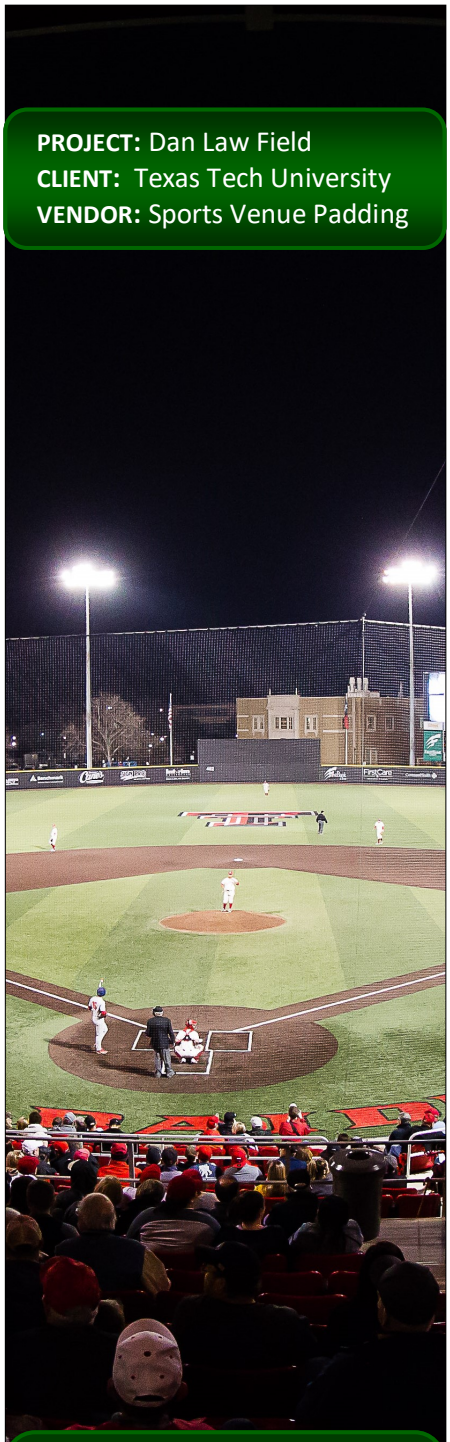
Dan Law Field
Texas Tech University ▪ Red Raiders

PROJECT: Dan Law Field
CLIENT: Texas Tech University
VENDOR: Sports Venue Padding



Nicknamed "The Law," this is the 4,368-seat home stadium of the TEXAS TECH RED RAIDERS nationally ranked NCAA Division 1 baseball team in Lubbock, Texas. SPORTS VENUE PADDING (SVP) was chosen to update their field because of its body of work with Major and Minor League Baseball teams, impressive installations, and its well-known experience with innovative solutions.

The Raiders wanted to display sponsorship advertising along the outfield walls and team branding in other areas. In addition, they were transitioning from a steel substructure under wooden walls on a field that had never been padded to complete padding all around the outfield. It was SVP's first relationship with Texas Tech, which included square Perma-rail in the dugouts, backstop and bullpen padding, and top-rail padding along the baselines. For this project, Texas Tech selected an 18-ounce, high UV inhibitor, 5-year warranty, black pro-stadium vinyl, complimented by their team brand printed in red and white ink.

The new stadium padding is complimented by their proudly displayed, oversized red Texas Tech Ts. The project took approximately 9-days to complete.
